

Job Type: Contract
Job Sector: Secondary Teacher
Region: South East England
Area: London
Location: London Borough of Waltham Forest
Salary: £120 to £150 per day

Geography Teacher required for a January start in a school that has recently had extensive expansion and modernisation in the Waltham Forest area.

This school are seeking to appoint a dynamic and inspirational teacher of Geography who is ambitious and has a real passion for this subject. Initially this role will be a temporary position, but would be permanent for the correct candidate.

This school has a successful Humanities department and achieved some excellent results over the last few years. It is served by several bus routes and is also close to a Central Line station.

The post is also suitable for NQT induction;

- Previous teaching experience
- A Passion for geography
- A track record of success
- An enthusiasm for education
- A positive can do attitude with lots of enthusiasm
- Friendly and approachable
- Looking for a new challenge
- Knowledge of the new curriculum
- An 'Enhanced DBS'
- Eligibility to work in the UK

We offer competitive rates of pay, advice on your CV and how it can be developed and both an honest and personal approach to you and your employment requirements.

We are a boutique agency who specialise in supplying teaching and support staff at all key stages to local schools and colleges and we aim to build long term relationships with clients and candidates alike.

We pride ourselves on providing an honest, reliable, first class level of service to ensure all parties have the best possible experience. With the Directors of CRS Education having many years of teaching, recruitment and management experience both within the education and recruitment sectors, this makes us ideally placed to provide the best solution for all recruitment needs.